DAN KATZ

Kaizawa, Bjorn Withdraw Applications For Position

By SAM OKINAGA

Ka Leo Managing Editor

In an unprecedented move, the ASUH council last Thursday overrode the recommendation of the board of publications and appointed Daniel H. Katz to a second term as editor-in-chief of Ka Leo.

Taken by secret ballot, the vote was 12-7.

The day before, by a 6-4 vote, the board had recommended Tomi Kaizawa, Ka Leo news editor, for the editor-in-chief's post.

THIRD APPLICANT Robert Bjorn, former Ka Leo sports editor, received three third choice votes on the single transferable ballot at the BOP meeting.

Dan Akimoto, sole applicant for the job of Ka Leo business manager for the next school year, was approved unanimously by both the BOP and the student council.

FOLLOWING the council's decision on the reappointment of Katz, both Miss Kaizawa and Bjorn withdrew their applications for the top position on the campus newspaper.

They filed formal withdrawal statements with ASUH President Warren Higa last Saturday. Higa is also chairman of the BOP.

IN A PREPARED statement explaining her decision to rescind her application for the job, Miss Kaizawa said, "The council has endorsed Daniel Katz as editor of Ka Leo for another year."

"I, as a student, accept the council's decision and will cooperate fully with Katz to make Ka Leo an outstanding college newspaper. This should be the principal aim of everyone on the staff."

SHE ALSO expressed appreciation for the "sincere efforts of those who supported" her and sought to petition for her in a referendum move.

"I believe that all of us should accept the decision of our own student government," Miss Kaizawa concluded.

AFTER HE had submitted his withdrawal statement to President Higa, Bjorn said, in a prepared statement, "In an honest belief that the petition for a reconsideration of your (the ASUH's council's) appointment of Dan Katz as editor-in-chief, and the possibility of a referendum vote being taken by the student body to either support the council action or refuting it, I indirectly aided in the origin and signing of this petition.

"It was upon a basis of principles involved which I based my opposition to the ASUH's reappointment of Dan Katz."

HE EXPLAINED the reason for his withdrawal with the following statement: "Seeing that this petition (for the referendum vote) has become an instrument to air personality conflict rather than editorial policy of administration on a college newspaper, I hereby withdraw my support of the aforementioned petition, and also as an applicant for the position of editor-in-chief of Ka Leo."

A crowd of more than 30 spectators sat through nearly three hours at the council meeting last Thursday to hear arguments for and against Katz' reappointment.

SOME COUNCILMEN and spectators presented the following arguments in support of Katz:

1. He has more experience than the other two applicants, by virtue of one year's work as editor-in-chief of Ka Leo and his work on a college (Wayne university) paper and as editor of an army newspaper.

2. HE HAS produced "one of the best" Ka Leos on the basis that the newspaper has "stimulated interest among students."

3. Because Ka Leo will have an "inexperienced staff" next year, an editor of Katz' ability will offset that deficiency and will "benefit the ASUH as a whole."

IN VOICING their opinions against Katz' reappointment, the following points were emphasized by some councilmen and spectators at the meeting:

1. Ka Leo is a workshop and a training ground for students interested in journalism, and as such, the job of editor-in-chief of the newspaper should be open every year to a different person.

KA PALAPALA UNEMPLOYMENT

Application Deadline Extended To April 19

Student Voters To Select May Queen, Attendants

Tomorrow's campus election will determine the university's May Day queen and her royal court of 10 attendants, including two ladies-in-waiting. Polls located at Hemenway hall will remain open from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m., disclosed Nellie Stewart, chairman.

Pictures of all the candidates, courtesy of Benny's studio, will be displayed near the election table, Miss Stewart announced.

UP TO PRESS time, two petitioned candidates, Frances Ching and Mercedes Hutchison, had entered the race for queen.

In conjunction with May Day program festivities, Miss Stewart disclosed that a lei contest will be held April 30 from 8 a.m. to 2 p.m.

CASH PRIZES will be awarded the most beautiful, the best green and white entrant, most original, funniest, and typically Hawaii leis,

Because no student applied for either the editorship or business manager's position of Ka Palapala, UH yearbook, the ASUH council recently voted to extend the nominations period until Thursday, April 21.

President Warren Higa, who also serves as chairman of the board of publications, announced that he will accept applications until Tuesday, April 19.

STUDENTS seeking the positions must be of sophomore standing, and not on grade point ruling.

Higa said that BOP is scheduled to meet Wednesday, April 20, to consider the applications. Nominations will be forwarded to the council the following day.

Gima Wins TG Design Contest

Shinye Gima, arts and science senior, won first prize recently in the TG sponsored program cover design contest. His prize was $25.

Gima's original design was one of 10 entries submitted. The prize winning design will be used permanently hereafter on all Theatre Guild programs, beginning with the One-Act plays next month.

ALL MALE SHOW IN 1949—The males in the Senior class walked off with Real Dean honors this year. Selected by the ASUH student council for their outstanding service to the ASUH in general were (l. to r.) Mendel Borthwick, ASUH councilman; Ed Sato, ASUH treasurer; Elias "Epy" Yadao, who graduated last Feb., but who participated in countless campus activities; and Richard Kosaki, ASUH president in 1947-48. Unable to be present for the picture was Warren Higa, currently student body president.

'THE RETURN'—IN 3 ACTS

Burglars Break Into Campus Snack Bar For Third Time

Tearing open a screen and unbolting the rear door, one or several thieves broke into the snack bar in a third robbery attempt last Friday, it was reported by Mrs. Elsie Boatman, cafeteria manager.

Mrs. Boatman said the robbery was discovered early Saturday morning by snack bar employees.

ALTHOUGH a routine inventory was taken and nothing valuable was discovered missing, a few candy bars and cigarettes may have been taken from the shelves, Mrs. Boatman revealed.

Police were notified after the robbery was discovered, but no clues were found at the scene of the crime, she said.

MOREOVER, police are not holding any suspects for the robbery, which is alleged to have followed the same pattern as the two previous crimes.

The first was committed last Dec. 17, and the second Jan. 7.

THE TIME of the third robbery was determined as some time between 10 p.m. Friday and about 7 a.m. Saturday.

Cafeteria workers had been serving the Pacific speech conference diners until 10 p.m. Friday, Mrs. Boatman said.

As We See It...

Franklin D. Roosevelt

It was four years ago when the news of Franklin Roosevelt's death stunned and shocked the freedom loving peoples of the world.

The man under whose political administration many an American had grown up died without seeing the greatest victory of his entire career—the destruction of ruthless fascism.

Born an American aristocrat, Franklin Roosevelt became the symbol of hope for little people the world over. His penetrating personality made him a close friend of the coolie in China, the peasant in France, the dock worker in Italy, the coal miner in Wales.

A brilliant political strategist, FDR was respected even by those who hated him most. "That Man in the White House," as they referred to him, held the whip hand and his enemies were fully aware of that fact.

FDR's Fireside Chats brought him into millions of homes. An old friend of the family dropped in for a visit whenever the announcer said, "Ladies and gentlemen, the President of the United States."

Four years after his death, Roosevelt's absence from the international scene is still keenly felt. "If only Roosevelt were alive" is the thought which keeps recurring in the minds of those who looked to him for comfort and guidance in dark days similar to the present.

The small burial plot at Hyde Park stands as a beacon in the midst of gathering storm clouds. Its gleaming granite light sends out calm reassurance that "all we have to fear is fear itself."

Year's Most Important Election

Coming over the horizon is the most important campus election of the year, that for the new student council, which is to be held Friday, April 22.

The entire ASUH membership is qualified to vote for councilmen who will represent next year's Sophomore, Junior, and Senior classes on the legislative body.

In the past it has been the practice of the student electorate to lightly regard this all important election. Perhaps students have considered it an anti-climax, following on the heels of the more colorful ASUH officers' campaign.

Whatever the explanation is, the fact remains that our student government is only as good as the councilmen the classes send to represent them. The student council, after all, has the authority to pass various pieces of legislation, not the officers.

The 1847 voters who turned out for last week's election have another duty to perform next week too. Upon their selections rests the hope of the ASUH government for the coming year.

Not A Bright Picture

Practically lost in the midst of other attention-drawing campus activities of late is the recent transfer of $20,000 from ASUH to the board of athletic control.

Faced with the very real possibility of winding up the year's business with a $27,000 deficit, BAC could not have continued operations without this monetary crutch from the student body.

Hard luck has beset the board ever since Texas Mines made its appearance in Honolulu last December. Not only did BAC drop several thousand dollars on that contest, the Nevada and Oregon State games, surprisingly, turned out to be financial fiascos as well. If, on the other hand, the three games had at least paid for themselves, BAC's dollar outlook today would be rosy indeed.

But back to stark reality, the board stands on shaky ground, even with ASUH's supplementary aid. Should football prove to be a box office flop again next season, Varsity sports at UH are committed to doom.

Under one proviso in the $20,000 loan, BAC is obligated to repay a minimum of $3000 yearly to the ASUH treasury. How the board obtains the money is a matter for it to decide.

ASUH has expressed its wholehearted willingness to cooperate, but BAC must not sit back and pass the buck to the students to raise the funds.

That is BAC's responsibility, and the board, we feel, recognizes it as such.

Letters From The Readers

HAGEN WITHDRAWS SUPPORT FROM PETITION

A situation has arisen that forces me to state my views with reference to the petition that has been circulating on campus in connection with the ASUH council's action in reappointing Daniel Katz editor of the student newspaper.

As you undoubtedly know, I was one of the persons who started the petition. It was based on one premise only—"That the student newspaper, although 'the voice of the students,' serves primarily as a source of training for persons interested in journalism." I as an individual felt that such was not the case in the council's decision in the reappointment of Daniel Katz.

Ugly rumors are floating around campus which have led me to believe that the petition will result in a personality and grudge fight, which was certainly not the reason for the origin of the action. Because I believe the purpose of the petition has been misconstrued, I wish to announce through our paper that I withdraw my support of said petition.

However I will reaffirm my contention that the student paper is a workshop and should be treated as such. If the consensus is that Ka Leo is not meant to be a training ground for journalism students (work on the paper is not at this time required of journalism students), may I take this opportunity to suggest that the ASUH council initiate action which would make experience on Ka Leo one of the basic requirements for student journalists.

—HAL HAGEN

REPLIES TO LOOK HI LO

This letter is in reply to Reader who signed his name Look Hi Lo. The Theatre Guild never was and never will be a closed shop. Its doors are open always to any interested student on campus. The fact is evidenced in the 300 or more membership of the Theatre Guild participants every year.

It has been the continued policy and practice of the Theatre Guild to post notices of tryouts on the Farrington hall TG bulletin board, Hemenway hall bulletin board and in Ka Leo. In addition, whenever there is backstage work or casting to be done, TG council representatives personally notify the students who have indicated their interests in Theatre Guild work on the ASUH interest cards. All fields of the theatre which include lighting, make-up, acting, publicity, properties, etc., are open to all.

—RALPH AOKI
Chairman, TG Council

'THANK YOU ALL'

I wish to extend my thanks to those who helped in the food preparation for the Freshman class picnic: first, to Mrs. Boatman and her staff, who helped plan and prepare the food; second, Mrs. Bartow, Mr. Chu and Mrs. Komeiji for their advice; third, the efficient food committee and fourth, the various other people who assisted in feeding 550 hungry freshmen.

Thank you all.

• From reports reaching our ears, the sophomores, juniors and seniors were even more hungry than those "550 freshmen."

PAGAN RELIC

Moon Links Hare, Easter Observance

How is it that two elements as diverse as the Easter celebration and the hare have come to be as closely associated as they are today?

It was the moon, according to one authority, which brought the two together. That is, both Easter and the hare were connected with the moon and in time, with one another. A case of identity, the geometer will tell you.

THE RELATION of Easter to the moon, of course, arose from the fact that Easter is in a sense a lunar holiday, for its date depends on the moon.

The hare, on the other hand, has been a symbol for the moon from ancient times. Its young, unlike the rabbit's, are born with eyes wide open, symbolizing the pagan concept of the moon as the "open-eyed watcher of the skies at night."

IN FACT the Egyptians called the hare "un" meaning "open" or "opener." The Egyptian "un" also meant "period," and thus the hare was regarded as the emblem of periodicity, both human and lunar, and in the character of "opener," was associated with the opening of a new year at Easter.

In time, the popular mind came to associate the hare with the paschal eggs, symbolic of the Resurrection, which were broken to signify the opening of the year.

IN AMERICA, where the hare is not common, its role has been transferred to its kin, the rabbit.

In Germany, the hare at Easter has achieved almost as important a place in the children's world as Santa Claus at Christmas. The white Easter bunny, the tots are told, will steal into the house on Easter Eve and deposit colored eggs in odd corners for "die guten kinder."

Profs Have Their Woes Too, Says One Who Knows

Professors also have their woes, according to the following lament by Prof. Harold Larrabee, appearing in the American Association of University Professors Bulletin:

If he's brand new at teaching, he lacks experience.

If he's been teaching all his life, he's in a rut.

If he dresses decently, he's trying to be a fashion plate.

If he thinks about something besides clothes, he's a bum.

If he seldom admits a mistake, he's arrogant.

If he ever admits a mistake he ought to go back to bricklaying.

If he plants an occasional joke in his lectures, he's a comedian.

If he never condescends to an academic nifty, he's duty dull.

If he writes books, he's neglecting his teaching.

If he never publishes, he never had a thought worth printing.

If he hands out plenty of high grades, he has no standards.

If he hands out plenty of low grades, he's a butcher.

If he uses notes, he's unoriginal.

If he gets along without notes, he's an ad-libber.

If he sticks to his specialty, he's got a one-track mind.

If he tours the encyclopedia, he's a show-off.

If he can't identify Fritzie Zivic and Jack Kramer, he isn't human.

If he listens to sports broadcasts, he's illiterate.

If he gets paid for outside work, he's greedy.

If he does outside work for nothing, he's a sucker.

Kam's Netsters Picked To Trounce Kapiolani

Fresh from their first Class "A" tennis league game win, UH netsters are favored to capture all 6 matches when they meet the Kapiolani squad, April 17, 9 a.m. at the campus courts.

Coach Dooley Kam's men in the singles, Ken Griffin, Clarence Lau, and Howard Lau, should have no trouble in toppling their opponents. The three UH duos of Ken Lau and Charlie Chan, Dave Mau and Les Ihara, and Stanley Kim and Akira Fujimoto will also step into the courts as heavy favorites.

IN THEIR GAME against YBA, the campus racquet men held their opponents to only two wins out of the six matches.

Displaying exceptionally good form, Griffin, without much difficulty, trounced the local tennis king of the last decade, Tom Tsushiyama, in two sets. UH'er Clarence Lau met a tough customer in S.

Yano as he went down to defeat in two sets, 2-6, 3-6.

AFTER WINNING the first set, 6-0, Howard Lau lost the second one, 2-6, due mostly to over confidence on his part, but buckled down to finish ahead, 6-2, in the final set to gain a victory over S. Ishitani.

In the thriller of the day, Dave Mau and Les Ihara squeezed through a doubles match against K. Tamura and K. Kimura of YBA, 5-7, 6-4, and 9-7.

STAN KIM and Akira Fujimoto met some difficulty in their "slow ball" opponents, K. Sumimoto and T. Ito, in their first set when they lost 0-6, but the collegians rallied in the last 2 sets to win the doubles match.

The downtown duo of T. Imoto and H. Pang beat Ken Lau and Cliff Lum, 6-2, 6-2.

Danny Kop Favored To Cop All Campus Golf Tourney

Freshman Danny Kop is favored to capture the open division of the all campus golf tourney which will be held Friday, April 15, at the Ala Wai publincs.

However, consistent players like Bob Takane and Bob Wong are expected to give Kop a rough time.

open division may be given up to 16 handicaps, while the novice division participants will be given more than 16 strokes.

Interested golfers are asked to contact Claude Takekawa at the Intramural office, or Dooley Kam, George Takane, or Bobby Wong.

All persons entered must be at the golf course by 8 a.m.

UH Wrestlers Place Second In 4 Divisions

By DICK NAGATA
Ka Leo Staff Reporter

The University of Hawaii wrestling team had a rough time last Saturday night when the Territorial AAU championships were held at the Army and Navy Y.

Fifteen rugged university lads represented their alma mater, and though none of them placed first they won the hearts of the fans with their sportsmanlike conduct.

FOUR UH'ERS placed second in four divisions. They were H. Fukuda, 115 lbs.; Jay Sasan, 128 lbs.; Bob Detton, 145 lbs.; and Henry Nachtsheim Jr. in the heavyweight division.

"We didn't do very good last Saturday but we hope to do better in the next match," said Co-Capt. Detton. That match will be held Friday, April 22, 7 p.m. at the university gym. There will be no admission charged.

UH's hard hitting diamonddeers meet the tough Winter league champs tomorrow night in their second Hawaii Baseball Congress game.

Starting at 8 p.m., the Injuns' scrap should be a thrilling one. Although the Winter circuit champs were twice beaten by the hustling Rainbows, several stellar performers bolster their lineup.

Park Leads Srs. To WAA Bowling Title At Waikiki

Virginia Park, who averaged 150 pin falls in 3 games, led the Seniors to the WAA interclass bowling crown last week at the Waikiki bowling lanes. Other members of the championship quintet are Tomoko Yamamoto, Marilyn Tani, Priscilla Char, and Dot Wong.

The experienced keggers piled up a total of 1,945, while the Frosh coeds followed with 1626. The Sophs and Juniors amassed 1,575 and 1,269, respectively.

BESIDES COLLECTING the highest average, Virginia had the most pin falls in a single game with her 180, while Tomoko and Dot Doi (Junior) were other individual stars with 143 averages.

Interclass 12 Inch Softball Rosters Due

In the interclass 12" softball tournament which commences April 25, each class may enter as many teams as it desires. Team rosters should be turned in to Claude Takekawa at the Intramural office as soon as possible.

Interclub ball will not begin until the interclass is finished.

COACH TOMMY Kaulukukui expects to start Henry "Lefty" Tomimaga on the mound. Jyun Hirota will lead the team from the catcher's position while Yutaka Nose guards the initial sack.

Tsuneo Watanabe will be at second base, Larry Matsuo at short, and Sol Kaulukukui at third.

THE OUTFIELD posts will be manned by Dermot Ornelles, Gordon Ornelles, and Tom Nakagawa.

Dermot led the Green and White batters last Sunday with four hits in five tries as the 'Bows unleashed an 18-hit barrage to rout the AJA squad, 10-3.

HARRY KITAMURA toed the slab with little difficulty, yielding only six scattered hits and garnering three singles out of five times at the plate.

Gordon Ornelles also grabbed a trio in five attempts, while Nakagawa and Kaulukukui connected for two bingles each.

THE MANOAMEN tallied twice each in the first, third, and fifth frames and dented the rubber four times in the eighth to put the game on ice.

This win put the UH ball squad in the winner's bracket and tabbed University of Hawaii as the team to beat in the 1949 Congress tournament.

MOREOVER, the stormy three hour session heard charges by a few councilmen and some spectators that Ka Leo "colored the news," failed to cover club events, "distorted" news on the Hemenway hall board of governors, "personalized news," and consequently was not the "voice of the students."

These charges were denied by Katz, who demanded proof of their validity, and insisted that he did his best to think of student interests as a whole in putting out the newspaper twice a week.

Katz' new term becomes effective May 1.
